Hi [REDACTED]

Hope you're doing well. I just wanted to follow up with you regarding the Wells website – you had asked a while back for some feedback about the new site. I finally had the chance to take a thorough look. I initially had some trouble navigating – I kept hitting dead-ends, BUT it all turned out to be an internet connectivity issue at our end! Once that was resolved, the site was easy to navigate, very clearly structured, and very professional looking. I asked [REDACTED] our grantwriter, to look at it carefully as she went through the grant submission process. Her comments are below. I wish we could offer some constructive criticism or suggestions, but neither of us saw a single thing that needed improvement.

As a grant writer, I give them 5 stars!
Their web site is clear, easy to read and navigate, and the application process is simple.
The very best part is that they require no cut & paste/data-entry nonsense. We simply attach two documents giving them the requested information. (The only other funder I have encountered doing something similar to this is [REDACTED]
Most other electronic application systems require things like retyping your entire board list into their system, cutting & pasting answers to questions with word limits, or character limits, etc.
Bravo for Wells! They are an example to be followed.

Hope this is helpful!

Warmly,

[REDACTED]
